To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to be able to recommend the work of John Knoelk, a good friend of mine who owns the construction/contracting business Contractor John, Inc. John has managed and completed both large and small commercial construction and remodeling projects at both our Lemont and Austin campus facilities. He has also done extensive residential work at our Lemont and Austin parsonages.

One of the great things about John is that he has years of experience in a variety of building needs. He is able to diagnose and usually address remodeling, plumbing, roofing, electrical and other building issues. In the event the job is beyond the scope of his expertise, John has an extensive network of qualified subcontractors that we have also been very pleased with.

We have never had a problem with the quality or timeliness of John's work. I could not extend a higher recommendation than I do for John.

Feel free to contact me if you have specific questions.

Sincerely,

Andy Combs
Executive Pastor
