3rd Quarter 2007

Dan King

It's a family tradition!

Dan's now the 12th scout in the King family to earn the rank of Eagle. He joins his father, grandfather, uncles, great-uncles, and cousins in achieving this goal. With the help of numerous scouts and adults of Troop 35 last summer, Dan replaced the fencing, mulch, and many plants in the herb garden of the John T. Huston-Dr. John D. Brumbaugh Nature Center near Alliance as his Eagle Project. After graduation from Archbishop Hoban, Dan plans to major in Entrepreneurial Studies at either Xavier or Miami University.

Congratulations to our newest eagle scouts Dan and Chris.

These two earning the highest honor in Scouting brings the troop to 78 Eagle scouts in its 77 year history.

Do you have a son interested in joining scouts??

Or if you would like to volunteer or assist the scouts in earning one of the over 100 merit badges, please contact our scoutmaster Patrick Wehrin

Chris Hare

Jumping into life with both feet

Since graduating from North Canton High School in June, Chris has been very busy. The biggest news is that he is now happily married. He is also working for a local store and plans to attend Akron University to pursue an engineering (construction) degree. His Eagle Project consisted of removing a chain link fence at St. Paul, cleaning and painting the remaining fencing, cleaning up the cemetery, painting the C building porch, installing a new light fixture on the porch, and installing a new fence between the porch and the cemetery.

Camp Tuscazoar

The first campout for the new scouts was the father/son campout at camp Tuscazoar in April. The first night was spent in the stone lodge. On Saturday the older scouts showed the new scouts how to put up tents. Later in the evening they held a ceremony to welcome the new scouts. That evening the scouts slept in the tents. The adults were welcome to sleep in the lodge.

Good Turn Campout at Seven Ranges

The May campout met the service requirement for summer camp (without it, the scout will have to do a service project while at summer camp). The scouts and adult leaders camped at the Blue Jacket campsite. They cut wood to continue a previously started project and then lashed them together to create a railing along one of the trails. The scouts also were servers at the dining hall. They also did a bit of hiking.

Super Trip to Wright Patterson Air Force Base

The June super trip (Thursday – Sunday) was to Wright Patterson to visit the air museum as well as enjoy the multitude of scout activities in the area.

Highlights of Upcoming Events

(dates are shown on the events calendar!)

Summer camp is once again upon us. This is a week long event designed to give the scouts a great outdoor experience where they learn about nature, earn merit badges for advancement and have an all around fun time working and playing together. As with other years, families of scouts are encouraged to join us for a campfire on Thursday night at 9:00.

As of publication, no campouts have as yet been scheduled for August and September. Please look to the ohio35.org website for updates to the information.

In search of contributors for the newsletter...
